

Delivering a better future for Brand

A message from Madeleine King MP

You elected me to build a better future for our local community - and that's what this Budget is all about.

The Albanese Government's first Budget is a responsible Budget that delivers targeted cost-of-living relief and invests in Australia's future.

The Budget delivers on the commitments we made to the Australian people, including:

- Cheaper child care
- Cheaper medicines
- Expanding paid parental leave to six months
- More affordable housing
- Getting wages moving again
- Bulk-billed urgent medical care clinics
- Fee-free Tafe and University places

The Budget is responsible, solid and it's suited to the times we are in.

Most importantly - this Budget begins to build a better future.

A budget delivering on our commitments

This is a responsible Budget that starts to clean up the mess the Liberals left behind, and begins to build the better future you deserve.

The Budget delivers on our commitments for cheaper child care, fee-free TAFE, cleaner and cheaper energy, and a future made in Australia.

This is a challenging time, with extreme global volatility contributing to high inflation and rising interest rates. That's why our top priority in the Budget is providing responsible cost-of-living relief.

Spending is being brought under control and Liberal waste is being addressed, so we can begin to deal with the trillion dollars of debt that was left to us. The Budget puts an end to the wasted decade under the Liberals. We are putting things right again.

Top priority in the Budget is providing responsible cost of living relief.”

A boost for local rugby league!

The Federal Government is investing in the much needed upgrades to Thomas Oval Hall in Medina.

Keeping active and connected is so important for our local community.

Participation in community sport contribute to physical wellness, creates strong social bonds and improves mental health.

The upgrade to the facilities at Thomas Oval will increase our community's ability to engage with sport for years to come.

Delivering for Brand

Veteran Wellbeing Centre

A one-stop shop for veterans and their families to access assistance from government, health services, ex-service organisations and community groups.

This is a long overdue $5 million investment in defence personnel and veterans for a new Veteran Wellbeing Centre.

New Urgent Care Clinic

50 Urgent Care Clinics are being delivered over four years from an investment of $150 million by the Federal Government.

Near Rockingham General Hospital, our Clinic will be tailored to meet the needs of the local community, easing the pressure on the Hospital, ensuring local families can see a doctor, rather than wait in an emergency room.

Cheaper Childcare

Families right across our community will have access to cheaper child care.

The Albanese Government has also delivered on its commitment to fund the refurbishment of the eastern courtyard at Ngala Child and Parent Centre in Calista.

Community Battery

Port Kennedy recently received a community battery, one of 400 across Australia.

Community batteries benefit the entire community, whether you have solar panels or not. They soak up an excess solar power and smooth the flow, improving power reliability and quality to customers.

Delivering for Seniors

More older Australians can now access the Commonwealth Seniors Health Care Card thanks to new laws passed by the Albanese Labor Government.

The annual income thresholds will rise to $90,000 for singles and $144,000 for couples.

The CSHC is available to Australian residents or special category visa holders who have reached aged pension or veteran pension age and do not already receive income supports through a social security pension or benefit, or veterans service pension due to their income.
